Overview

These switches are built using a unique printed circuit board that has been designed to support high speed network communications that are not possible in other switches that use discrete wiring and no PC board. Unlike other Ethernet network switches, each of these switches is tested by passing Gigabit data through it to verify connectivity and accuracy of the data passing through the switch. All components have been selected for long, reliable service.

Installation & Operation

Locate the switch in a stable environment that is relatively free of vibration and contamination. No external power is required to operate the switch. Ethernet cables that conform to the speed of the data to be passed through the switch should be used for all connections to it. Shielded cables are recommended.

Operate the switch by rotating the control knob located on the front of the switch to select the port that you wish to connect to the common port.

There are no user-repairable components in this switch. If service or technical support is required, please contact your representative or Market Central, Inc. A RMA# will be issued to you if the switch must be returned for service. If you must return a switch for service, please use the original packaging and include details of the problem
